War Clouds Over Laos Menace To Thailand

PARIS (AP)—Ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization go behind closed doors today to study ways to prevent lightning from the war clouds in Laos from striking neighboring Thailand.

The prospect that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao would take over all of northern Laos spurred urgent consultations among the foreign ministers of the eight SEATO nations, whose alliance is aimed at keeping the Communists from taking over Southeast Asia.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday urged all signers of the 1962 agreement neutralizing

Laos to "prevent further aggravation of the situation."

The signers include the Soviet Union and Communist China.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the ministerial council that his ambassador in Moscow, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, has been in close contact with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on the situation.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Geneva conference. They had their representatives in Laos appeal to all parties for restraint.

One side effect of the SEATO meeting was an apparent warming up on French relations with Britain and the United States.

Rusk conferred with President Charles de Gaulle in what was described as a cordial atmosphere. It was the first such high level French-American meeting since De Gaulle spurned President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles for French submarines as a start toward a NATO nuclear force.

Lord Home saw French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville for the first time since France blocked Britain's bid for entry into the Common Market.

The British and Americans had another difficulty. Pakistan, a SEATO member, was reported taking a stand-offish attitude at the meeting because of arms aid to India by the two powers.

State Has Drop In Unemployed

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's first downturn in unemployment in five months was reported today by the Employment Security Commission.

The state agency said in its monthly preliminary report that statewide unemployment had dropped off 8,000 to a total of 189,000 as of mid-March compared to mid-February.

This was the first reduction since last October, MESC records showed.

Mid-February's unemployment, according to corrected figures, was 197,000. The preliminary report for that period had given a figure of 205,000.

The preliminary count of jobs at mid-March was 6.6 per cent of the labor force.

An MESC spokesman attributed the jobs increase to seasonal factors. Employment in the retail trade increased 7,000, indicating a pre-Easter rise, and it went up 2,000 in the construction field.

Cuba Will Free Nine Skindivers

HAVANA (AP)—James B. Donovan announced today that he has secured the freedom of nine shipwrecked skindivers held in Cuba for seven weeks and would return with them to the United States as soon as possible.

Donovan, the New York lawyer who also negotiated the freedom of the Bay of Pigs prisoners, said that Prime Minister Fidel Castro agreed to the release of the skindivers after Donovan proved them innocent of any counterrevolutionary activity.

"The government has informed me that it has determined, despite the suspicious circumstances of the case, the innocence of the expedition," Donovan said in an after midnight session with newsman.

"The fact that they were shipwrecked seamen has been established."

The nine scuba divers arrived at Camaguey in an open boat Feb. 21 after two days at sea without food and water. They said they were bound for Puerto Rico. The Cuban government arrested them.

In Miami, Fla., the skin divers were identified by a State Department representative as Jack W. Browne, Miami; Robert C. Moran, Lockport, N.Y.; Clifford G. Burnes, Lebanon, N.H.; Steven V. Baade, Cranah, Neb.; John R. Klinger, Miami; Richard Avery, Philadelphia; Don Baird, Madison, Ga.; Charles E. Bocher, Alexandria, Va., and James Brown, Chester, Pa.

Americans Killed On Strafing Run

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Rescuers evaded Communist machinegun fire today to reach a crashed two-engine fighter plane. They found both American pilots and a Vietnamese observer dead.

The B26 went down in mountains 260 miles north of Saigon while making a strafing run Monday.

Sir Winston, 88, Becomes U.S. Citizen Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, the magnificent Briton, becomes officially today what he has been for two decades in the hearts of Americans—the first honorary citizen of the United States.

The bestowing of this honor, unique in history, requires only a touch of President Kennedy's pen on a bill enacted by Congress and a second signature on a presidential proclamation.

Wary now with the weight of 88 years, Sir Winston was unable to be present to receive a nation's accolade. Neither were Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the three former presidents, able to accept Kennedy's invitation to attend.

The ceremony was carefully timed, at 3 p.m. EST, so that the British Broadcasting Corp. could bounce it off the orbiting Relay satellite and Churchill could watch it on television in his London home.

Sir Winston sent a special message of acceptance and appreciation to be read by his son, Randolph.

The setting was the Rose Garden, outside the White House where Churchill helped chart the strategy of global war and peered at the problems of an uneasy peace in the climactic years of a stringently erratic career.

It was in this house that the man Britain chose as her prime minister in the moment of her greatest peril showed up suddenly and secretly a few days after Japan smashed at Pearl Harbor and the United States went limping off to war.

Side by side in the oval presidential office, Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt thundered at the common enemy at a joint news conference. They assured the world that Allied might ultimately would win out over Germany first and then Japan. Spry then, Churchill climbed onto a chair, chopped a cigar, and poked his split fingers aloft in his renowned V for Victory salute.

In those desperate days of World War II, Churchill was the symbol and the leader of an indomitable Britain. It didn't matter that Churchill twice had been a political turncoat and a consistent political failure. Or that he was impulsive and contradictory, and detested as well as admired in his own land.

Guns Are Duds

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The police department has started a check of pistols packed by its officers. The results so far: 14 of 200 guns examined wouldn't shoot.

A police official said that chrome plating used by some of the officers to dress up their guns got into the mechanism, jamming it.

Airliner Avoids Crash With Jet

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—An American Airlines turboprop Electra with 52 passengers aboard and an F101 Voodoo jet fighter were forced into evasive action Monday night to avoid a collision at 22,000 feet, an Air Force spokesman said today.

The airliner went into a sudden plunge. The jolt shook the craft and injured five passengers, none seriously, an airline spokesman said.

The airliner, on the Boston-to-Detroit Flight 463, was jerked by the pilot, Capt. Mel T. Biederman of Ann Arbor, Mich., into what airline employees called "evasive action" to avoid the all-weather fighter.

The Air Force spokesman said the Voodoo was based at Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y.

The near-collision occurred about five miles north of Hancock Field here.

The Air Force spokesman could give no estimate of how close the planes came.

Channel Cleared In Lake Huron Ice To Locks At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The Coast Guard icebreaker Nautaguck cut a second channel through Lake Huron ice Monday in preparation for the opening of the Great Lakes shipping season this month.

The channel will clear the way for navigation from DeTour, on the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula, to the St. Marys River and the locks at the Soo.

Meanwhile, Coast Guardsmen aboard the icebreaker Tamarack placed navigation lights and buoys to mark the channels leading to the lower St. Marys River.

Goldwater Lets Campaign Begin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has let the bars down for supporters to find out what enthusiasm they can generate with a move to draft him for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater's reaction to the announcement Monday of the formation of a national draft committee was a resigned shrug and the statement, "If they want to waste their time and money, that's their business."

Acknowledging that he knows most of the people involved, Goldwater disclaimed any connection with the movement started by Peter O'Donnell Jr., Texas Republican state chairman.

Goldwater said in an interview, he is "only running in Arizona" for re-election to the Senate next year. He said the presidential nomination movement "will have to get along without any help from me."

"These things are springing up all over the country," he said. "I've just given up trying to stop them."

Goldwater said he knew nothing about the financing of the O'Donnell organization except that he considered it had "a mighty good fund raiser" in its treasurer, J. William Millendorf of Greenwich, Conn., a New York stock broker and member of the Connecticut Republican Finance Committee.

Ice Jams Block River Between Quebec, Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)—The St. Lawrence River between Montreal and Quebec continued to be blocked today by ice jams holding up an estimated 20 vessels.

The ships are tied up at Quebec City and Trois Rivières, waiting for the passage upstream to Montreal to clear. Several ships in Montreal also have been prevented from sailing for overseas.

The main block is located at Lanoraie, Que., 20 miles downstream from Montreal, where a late-season rush of ice piled up at the entrance of the main shipping channel.

Holland Furnace Directors Sue, Charging Waste

NEW YORK (AP)—Two directors of Holland Furnace Co. filed a $6 million suit in Supreme Court Monday accusing the former management of the heating equipment firm of "waste, mismanagement and misconduct."

The suit was brought by Jerome Jennings, present board chairman, and Edward Gropper, chairman of the executive committee, and Holland Furnace Co., Holland, Mich.

Among the defendants named were Milton J. Stevens, former Holland board chairman, and Republic-Transcon Industries Inc., of Beverly Hills, Calif.

The suing directors charged Stevens with conspiracy to force a merger between Holland and Republic-Transcon of which he now is chairman.

This, the suing directors charge, was sought to be accomplished by a series of intricate stock transactions and other acts all adverse to the Holland company's interest.

Canadian Liberal Party Wins, Fails To Get Majority

TORONTO (AP)—Lester B. Pearson's Liberals re-emerged today as Canada's leading political party, but just short of a clear majority in the House of Commons.

Prime minister John G. Diefenbaker, although in effect repudiated in Monday's election, indicated he will hold on to the top job as long as he can. It appeared however, that he must eventually turn over the prime ministry to Pearson.

Lacking Seven Seats

With only four seats outstanding in the tabulation of results, the Liberals had 126 seats in the House of Commons, seven less than the 133 that means command over all opposition parties in Parliament.

The Conservatives had 94 seats, the Social Credit party 24 and the New Democrats 17.

Conservatives were ahead in three of the Liberals in one of the districts yet to report final results.

Thus the Liberals seemed to have no chance of the 133 majority unless they could pull some magic out of overseas returns from service men which are to be announced next weekend.

By the usual procedure, the party gaining most seats names the prime minister. That would put Pearson, at 65, in line to take over the leadership he failed to win in two previous attempts, 1958 and 1962.

Diefenbaker said he will confer with his Cabinet but indicated he intends to take advantage of his right to hold on until the new Parliament lines up by parties, perhaps in six weeks.

Opposition Increases

A call for Diefenbaker's retirement as leader of the Conservative party came from Douglas

Lester Pearson

Harkness, who quit as Diefenbaker's defense minister in this winter's dispute over acquisition of nuclear warheads.

Harkness, a Conservative who has won seven times in his Alberta district, said "After this election it is apparent a leadership convention will be in order."

Further opposition to Diefenbaker within the party is bound to come as a result of Monday's showing. Some party stalwarts wanted to oust him during his defense crisis which ignited Diefenbaker's defeat on a vote of confidence in the House of Commons Feb. 5. That brought on Monday's election.

Diefenbaker, who keeps his strategy close to his vest, was somewhat cryptic as he discussed election results with reporters.

Teletype Circuit May Link Kremlin With Washington

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union open direct negotiations today on a "hot line" teletype circuit between Washington and Moscow.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle and Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin were to meet this afternoon at the headquarters of the U.S. delegation to the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The governments agree that the direct teletype between their capitals would provide a safeguard against an outbreak of world war by accident or miscalculation.

They also believe the circuit would make an important contribution to reducing East-West tension generally.

For the moment, the United States and the Soviet Union regard the line as strictly a two-nation affair.

American officials viewed with little enthusiasm a hint from the British government that it would like to be included in the negotiations before they reach their final stage.

The Americans feel that to bring in the British would lead to demands for a similar privilege from other countries with claims to world power status, notably France.

No immediate, dramatic result can be expected from the Stelle-Tsarapkin meeting. The two chief delegates are virtually certain to call in telecommunications experts to work out technical details of the proposed circuit.

Pew 76, and his brother, J. Howard Pew, directed Sun Oil since the death in 1912 of their father, Joseph N. Pew Sr., the founder.

Joseph Pew Jr. died in Lankenau Hospital after a brief illness. He had gone to his office each day until stricken.

Speaking of Pew, Joseph W. Martin, speaker of the House under the Republicans and a former GOP national chairman, once said:

"In his dedication to the Republican party he has given millions. Yet in all the years I have known him and have been close to him in campaigns he has never asked me for a single favor. When almost no one else was giving any money his contributions kept coming in; without them the party might have utterly dried up for lack of funds."

The Pew brothers were regarded as major powers in the highest circles of the state and national Republican party.

"Coffee flew all over the ceiling," McKenney said. "But, in the back, by the tail section, people were thrown into the aisles."

Lawmakers Race With Deadline, Due Wednesday

LANSING (AP)—The future of the open occupancy bill—a basic part of Gov. George Romney's legislative program—and two other volatile issues rested today, with a caucus of House Republicans.

The big decision was to be whether the open occupancy bill, designed to eliminate racial discrimination in real estate transactions, would be reported out of the State Affairs Committee by Wednesday's deadline.

Also under the gun in the party conference were the parochial school bus bill and a minimum wage bill which both Romney and Democrats have tried in vain to pry loose from reluctant House GOP leaders.

Cleared By Senate

All three measures have cleared the Senate and must reach the House floor by Wednesday or perish for the session.

It appeared the most pressure would be applied for release of the open occupancy bill, written as a proposed law to replace the so-called "Rule 9" of the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission which the Michigan Supreme Court ruled invalid four months ago.

As drafted, the bill would bar real estate brokers from encouraging, suggesting or recommending that home sellers select purchasers on the basis of race, religion, color or national origin.

Since passing the Senate, the bill has remained in the House State Affairs Committee.

A GOP caucus decision on the minimum wage bill, a House substitute for a Senate-approved measure calling for a $1.15 wage floor, was coupled with a demand by Democrats that the House Labor Committee be forced to report the bill out.

Church Groups Divided

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, said he was not sure the minimum wage bill—declared dead last week by Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, labor committee chairman—would be brought before the caucus.

Less fireworks were expected on the school bus bill which had all but six of the 34 senators as sponsors and cleared that chamber by a nearly-unanimous vote.

The measure would require public school districts providing bus transportation for their students to make it available as well to private and parochial school students living within the district.

Estimates of the total cost per year, with the state paying about two-thirds, have ranged from $800,000 to $1.4 million.

Although it passed the Senate without floor debate, hearings on the bill have drawn opposition from some church groups and from persons and organizations who see it as a violation of the principle of separation of church and state.

In action Monday night, the House passed bills and sent the so-called "Good Samaritan" bill to the governor after agreeing to withdraw an amendment to which the Senate had objected.

The bill provides that physicians administering emergency aid to accident victims are not liable for malpractice suits later. The amendment, which was stricken, would have included "all persons" instead of just doctors.

In the Senate, 11 minor House-approved bills were moved up to the final voting stage.

BOUNTY BAN PUSHED

LANSING (AP)—Members of the House Conservation Committee today faced the choice of a trip to Niles, where a comrade lies ailed, or settling for a compromise that could lead to abolishment of hunters' bounties in the Lower Peninsula.

Rep. Hans Rasmussen, R-Ludington, committee chairman, said he would decide today whether to take the committee to a Niles hospital and convene in the sickroom of Rep. Floyd Wagner, R-Cassopolis.

"With Floyd's vote, we can report out bills to wipe out the bounties in both peninsulas," said Rasmussen. "Without it, I think I can round up the votes needed to abolish them in the Lower Peninsula only."

The 14-member committee is considering two Senate-approved bills to wipe out the bounties on foxes, coyotes and bobcats—the latter applying only to the Upper Peninsula—at the urging of Gov. George Romney.

Pope Signs New Peace Appeal

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII signed a new encyclical on peace today in an unusual ceremony emphasizing the importance of the pontiff attached to his pronouncement.

Titled "Pacem in Terris" or "Peace on Earth," the letter is a broad appeal for world peace. It will be made public Wednesday. It is the first papal encyclical devoted exclusively to the theme of peace.

The Pope ceremonially signed five specially printed copies of the encyclical in his private library. Four of the copies will go into the Vatican archives. The fifth will remain in the Pope's personal files.

Vatican sources could not recall a similar ceremony. Usually Popes sign their encyclicals privately, without any fanfare, and the letter is publicized only after its contents are revealed.

People Are Losing Trust In Kennedy, Publisher Finds

By The Associated Press

Edwin Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, says the country's confidence in President Kennedy seems to be slipping.

He told the Knife and Fork Club at Portland, Ore., Monday night that "when the President got tough, the people were behind him and the country felt a sense of direction."

That was in the crisis over missiles in Cuba. Since then the Cuban situation has slipped, Hoyt said, "into a hazy state."

Confusion over taxes, the managed news controversy and a deep-center attitude of Congress have contributed to a decline in confidence in the President, Hoyt added.

"The survival of the United States could well be affected by confidence or lack of confidence in the U.S. president," he said, urging Kennedy to use his own judgment rather than that of advisers. He described Kennedy's advisers as "intellectuals whose sense of the practical is virtually nonexistent."

Pearson Named Charities Head

John F. Pearson, 1507 10th Ave. S., general agent of Occidental Life Insurance Co., has been named executive director of the New Delta United Charities, A. W. Freeman, president of the organization, announced today.

Pearson is beginning his new part-time duties immediately to organize for the fall campaign by which DUC will finance its member agencies like the Red Cross, Child Guidance Clinic, etc., with united giving. He will continue the operation of his insurance agency.

Pearson was named to succeed George Grenholm, who resigned recently to accept a position with the Soo Hardware.

The new secretary is a former president of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce and was named the Chamber's outstanding young man of the year in 1956. He has served as chairman of the Escanaba Community Chest, in the cancer fund campaign, in the Child Guidance Clinic campaign, the JC Home Show, and in other civic endeavors.

A native of Escanaba, he is the father of four. An early event on the DUC calendar is sponsorship of a luncheon meet of united giving groups from Schoolcraft, Menominee and Delta counties at the House of Ludington at noon, Thursday, April 18. It will be addressed by Edward Kelley, general manager of manufacturing of Chevrolet Division of General Motors, who is president of the Michigan United Fund.

Inwood School Millage Sought

Voters of Inwood Township, Schoolcraft County, are being asked by the Cooks Public Schools board of education to vote "yes" on a proposal to levy 8 mills for three years to finance general school operation. The question will be put to the voters in an election to be held April 15.

Actually, the proposal is for 2 additional mills, since there was a 6 mill general operating tax being levied until Dec. 31.

Supt. H. C. Schwartz pointed out that the increase will be but $2 per $1,000 assessed valuation over the present tax and "it is the feeling of the Board of Education that this money is sorely needed for proper operation of the school."

"One mill of the two extra mills will be earmarked for the future purchase of a bus while the other will help take up the slack of the millage that the school lost by virtue of the allocation board," it was reported.

The State Equalized Valuation heard every student in the Cooks area is $7,503 and other schools in this same valuation bracket and approximate size have had to raise additional millage for operation.

The Cooks school district is not alone in its financing problem, said Supt. Schwartz. The shift has been away from the state and toward the local government in meeting the cost of school operations in the past 10 years, he said. Local financing has increased from 44.6 to 57.3 per cent while the state's share has dropped from 51.4 to 33.9 per cent.

The school board and the superintendent joined in urging a "yes" vote on the question April 15.

Six Grass, Brush Fires Reported In Area On Monday

There were several grass and brush fires in the Escanaba area on Monday, it is reported by Owen Bennett, assistant supervisor of the Escanaba District, Department of Conservation.

Two-tenths of an acre of cedar lands burned north of Bark River in a blaze that started from a rubbish fire at 12:45 p.m. The fire was brought under control by 1:45 p.m. under the supervision of Bark River Fire Chief Herman Palmgren.

One-tenth of an acre of aspen was destroyed by fire near Five Corners in the Danforth area shortly after noon; and shortly before noon one-tenth acre of grasslands was blackened near Riverland. The fire at Five Corners was started by sparks from a garbage burner.

Three acres, including one of aspen and the remainder grass, was burned over near Breezy Point at 3:17 p.m.

Crews and equipment from the Escanaba District headquarters were dispatched to extinguish the fires.

The Escanaba city fire department put out two grass fires on Monday.

Academic Honors Won By Lindquist

Jack Lindquist, a 1959 graduate of Escanaba High School, will be honored at the 40th annual Honors Convocation of the University of Michigan, to be held in Hill Auditorium on Friday, April 26. On these occasions the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records.

Jack is a Senior in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts. He also serves on the Dean's staff as assistant resident advisor in Michigan House. The traditional program will be followed by a tea given by President and Mrs. Hatcher for the honor students and their parents in the Vandenberg Room of the Michigan League.

Peninsula Firms Deny Fixing Of Pulpwood Prices

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Five paper manufacturers and five individuals have denied they conspired to hold down prices on pulpwood in Wisconsin and Michigan's Upper Peninsula in separate answers to a civil antitrust suit filed last year.

The answers were filed in U.S. District Court Monday by American Can Co., New York City; Kimberly Clark Corp., Neenah, Wis.; Peterson Brothers Co., Carney, Mich., and Merton D. Jensen, John T. Hebert and Charles W. Stoll, partners in Sawyer Stoll Timber Co., Escanaba, Mich., and Vincent and Eugene Peterson, officers of Peterson Brothers.

Badger Paper Mills Inc., of Peshtigo, Wis., and Scott Paper Co., of Philadelphia filed answers Friday. Mead Corp., Dayton, Ohio, has not yet answered.

The Justice Department's antitrust action filed last June contended the firms had conspired since 1951 to restrain and avoid price competition, and that the conspiracy kept small pulpwood producers from enjoying a free, competitive market.

Named as co-conspirators in the action were Marathon, Wis., Corp., Marinette, Wis., Paper Co., Escanaba, Mich., Paper Co., Falls Paper & Power Co. of Wisconsin, and Kimberly Clark of Michigan Inc.

Bell Payroll In Escanaba $464,962

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today reported that it paid wages of $464,962 to its 79 employees in Escanaba in 1962. To its 21,878 employees throughout the state, the company paid $143,087,626, an all-time record.

In addition to Michigan Bell's payroll, Western Electric Co., the manufacturing and supply arm of the Bell System, paid $8.9 million to 1,310 employees in Michigan, and AT&T's Long Lines department paid $5 million to its employees in the state.

Michigan Bell is the state's fourth largest non-governmental employer.

Michigan Toll Of Emphysema Is Rising Rapidly

LANSING — Deaths in Michigan due to emphysema (pronounced em-fih-ZEE-mah) have increased more than 1,000 percent since 1950, the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association reports.

The emphysema death toll in 1962, according to the Michigan Department of Health, was 522 persons. In addition, emphysema was a factor in the 65 deaths attributed primarily to chronic bronchitis. In 1950, only 38 deaths were caused by the disease.

With the TB death rate decreasing slightly annually and the emphysema rate making pronounced increases, the emphysema toll will double that of tuberculosis this year, it is predicted. The TB death toll in 1962 was about 325 persons.

Some 3,300 persons died of respiratory diseases in Michigan last year. Pneumonia was the major killer, taking 1,776 lives.

Based on national estimates that some ten million persons are suffering to some degree from emphysema, it is likely that 400,000 Michigan residents are victims of the disease. Because most of those who have the disease are men over 40, this would mean that possibly one out of four in this category is afflicted.

Emphysema was described as a disease in which the lungs, for unknown reasons, lose their elasticity or "bounce" and will not properly expel air. Thoracic surgeons have found that emphysema frequently causes over-working of the heart and that many persons whose deaths have been attributed to heart failure suffered initially from emphysema.

To increase public awareness of the danger sign of emphysema (shortness of breath) and of chronic bronchitis (chronic cough) the Michigan Christmas Seal agency will engage in a 45-day health education campaign beginning May 1.

Employables Off Direct Relief In Delta On May 1

The Delta County Welfare Board has ordered that employables on the direct relief roll be dropped on May 1. Improving employment in the area prompts the annual cut-off.

There are now about 25 persons who are employable in some way who are getting direct relief, says Welfare Director Lyle Plowman. The winter's maximum was about 35 and reflected an improvement over welfare conditions in Delta in 1962.

Most of the direct relief expenditure is on unemployable persons and to supplement the social security payments to persons in nursing homes.

Plowman said that employment is improving and easing welfare aid requests. The milder weather also reduces applications. The county's work relief program has been shut down.

Delta had 150 direct relief cases in February compared with 180 a year ago and spent $12,629 compared with $14,060. In

Self-Employment Earnings Report Should Be Complete

The deadline for filing income tax returns is important for social security purposes also.

"Self-employed persons get social security credit for their earnings based on the information in their income tax returns," said Robert Ham, acting manager of the Escanaba Social Security Office.

According to Ham, the social security office has cases every month in which failure to report, or the filing of an incomplete or incorrect report of self-employment earnings, results in a loss of benefits — not only for the self-employed person, but also for his wife or widow or children.

"Making out a correct and complete report of self-employment earnings," he asserted, "is as important as making sure your life insurance company credits you with the premiums you pay."

Although the social security tax rate went up, beginning the first of this year, self-employed persons will pay the 1962 tax rate of 4.7 percent on the first $4,300 of self-employment net income for the year 1962.

Garden Club Members Win County Honors

GARDEN — Bonard Tatrow drove the school bus that took the Willing Workers 4-H group to Escanaba Saturday to attend the Delta County Achievement program. There were 35 regular members, seven junior girls, the leaders and several parents.

The group contributed the tree of roses that was used for stage decorations.

Honors in modeling was given to Colleen Winter and Mary Lou LeBresh will have her garments judged for the U. P. State Fair. William McDermott, Daniel Cota and Dennis Murphy were chosen to take their handicraft projects to the fair.

Gail Grenier and William McDermott were awarded Junior Leader pins.

Sixteen members of the group took part in the square dance, The Portland Fancy, that was chosen as one of the winners. Participating in the dance were David and Daniel Cota, Brent Rochefort, Dennis Murphy, Rodney Lucas, Roger and Reginald LaCost, Ricky Bouchard, Sharon Swaer, Linda Hermes, Christine Thibault, Rose and Jane Tatrow, Sandy Thennes, Leone Forhart and Colleen Winter.

Officers of the Ladies Auxiliary, National Association of Letter Carriers, elected at a meeting Monday night, are, from the left, Mrs. Glenn Matheson, president, Mrs. Ray McDonald, treasurer, Mrs. Leonard Nelson, secretary. The discussion topic of the meeting was "Auxiliaries Become Secret Weapons of U. S. Employees in Elections," found in the Postal Record. Hostesses were Mrs. Jean Bohan and Mrs. Matheson.

Need Soil Test For Good Lawns

This is the time of the year when people ask what commercial fertilizer produces a good lawn. Answering the question without a soil test is like trying to guess heads or tails on the flip of a coin.

You might guess 50 per cent correct and then again you may not, says J. L. Heirman, county extension director.

Where there is no soil test on which to base recommendations, a complete analysis fertilizer such as a 10-10-10 or a 12-12-12 is recommended. Later in the summer when the grass lacks vigor we might give it some nitrogen such as ammonium nitrate.

When the lawn is still dormant any type fertilizer can be applied without burning. Once grass starts to grow most of the inorganics must be washed in to avoid burning. Most of the organic fertilizers on the contrary are not likely to give this trouble.

By applying half the fertilizer going north and south and the other half going east and west one will avoid streaks in the lawn.

If moisture is lacking, fertilizer will do very little good. Giving the lawn a good soaking rather than a light sprinkling is recommended. When it's time to start cutting the grass remember that bluegrass lawns should never be cut below 1½ inches. Heirman said.

The longer grass will prevent weeds from getting started and hold moisture in the soil. If weeds should begin creeping in, use a 2-4-D and follow the manufacturer's direction. There are also chemicals for crab grass control.

League Examines Aid For Children

The third program on "Study and Evaluation of Local Measures to Alleviate Problems of Children in Trouble," was presented at a regular meeting of the League of Women Voters last night at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. John Loeffler introduced the three panel members, Lyle Plowman, director of Delta County Social Welfare Department; Urban Steinmetz, director of Catholic Social Services; and Edwin Wuehle, assistant superintendent of Escanaba Area Public Schools. The three men described their work in relation to children with various difficulties, recounting the strong points of their programs, as well as areas in which needs cannot be met.

In reviewing the services of the Welfare Department, Plowman reported that payments go to recipients of Aid to Dependent Children bi-weekly, instead of monthly as in the past. This enables recipients to manage their funds better and is a great improvement.

Another change noted by Plowman is that a large percentage of ADC needs is due to cases of divorce, separation and estrangement, whereas in the past such cases were due mainly to the death or incapacitation of a parent. A positive factor in giving help to troubled children is the Friend of the Court, who is on full time duty. On the negative side, Plowman stressed the need for more intensive work on certain cases which cannot be done because of limitation of time and staff.

Steinmetz reported the success and popularity of the "Family Life Program" initiated this last year by the Catholic Social Services, and the large use made of their marriage counselling service. This agency also assists unmarried mothers, does limited personal counselling, and adoptive work. Steinmetz noted the change to family centered services, rather than to individuals. All services in this agency are available to Protestants as well as Catholics, excepting the adoptive service. Again the inability to take care of many pressing needs is due to lack of adequate resources, he said.

Wuehle pointed out that Escanaba Area Schools have special rooms and teachers to take care of many children with difficulties. In the case of mentally handicapped children, there are two rooms, which take care of about 36 children. However, there is a long waiting list for these rooms, he said.

About the oral deaf room takes care of about 13 children. The orthopedic room gives special care to the crippled, provides them with physical therapy, and integrates them into the regular classrooms. These rooms are available to children outside of the Escanaba Area Schools when there is room.

In speaking of dropouts, Wuehle emphasized the importance of the industrial arts program, the co-op program, the sports program, special education and child guidance in preventing dropouts. Here again, lack of resources prevents more extensive service.

All three panel members repeatedly cited cases where many agencies worked together to help children and much evidence of cooperation was given.

Four Are Injured In Highway Mishap

Four persons were hospitalized and the car in which they were traveling demolished as the result of an accident on U.S. 2-41 about 7:20 p.m. Monday, just opposite the Bombay Motel.

Injured were: Katherine Ann Kang, 19, of 320 S. 7th St., who sustained lacerations and other possible injuries; Francis Ozimac, 29, of 1402 Sheridan Rd., lacerations to the head and possible internal injuries; LeRoy J. Hardwick, 23, of 309 N. 10th St., laceration to the forehead; and Nancy Ann Monson, 18, of 330 N. 14th St., who suffered a compound fracture of the left arm.

Hardwick has since been released from the hospital. Miss Kang is listed in "good" condition today; Ozimac is reported in "fair" condition; and Miss Monson as "fairly good."

According to State Police, who investigated the mishap, Miss Kang was driving the car, which was owned by Ozimac, and was headed towards Gladstone when the vehicle went out of control. It swerved off the right side of the road, rolled down the embankment and came to rest upright in the marshy land off the east side of the highway.

Special Masonic Meeting Will Be Held Here Thursday

A meeting of special interest to members of Royal Arch Masons will be held at the Masonic Temple in Escanaba on Thursday, April 11, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Harry G. Moak, Grand High Priest of Royal Arch Masons and staff will visit the chapter and conduct a school of instruction where changes in ritual and other matters of general interest to the craft will be discussed.

Delegations from Manistique, Iron Mountain, and Menominee will be in attendance and Royal Arch Masons in general are invited. Lunch will be served.

New Welfare Bills Fail To Hit Mark, Kiwanians Told

Some of the new state and federal welfare bills fail to meet the current needs for which they were intended, Escanaba Kiwanians were told Monday by Wayne St. Pierre, counsellor for the Catholic Social Service office here.

"Our rights are being taken away from us by state and federal government legislation," St. Pierre said.

He criticized a federal proposal which provides for day care of children for working mothers, pointing out that day nurseries separate children and mothers at an age when children need their mothers most, and that aid for working mothers encourages women to take jobs which should go to unemployed men. The bill for aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U), as presently proposed in Lansing will not help low-paid workers who need it most, St. Pierre declared, and in effect will pay men for not working.

The speaker saw danger in legislation for financial aid to unmarried mothers, a program which he said had been made so attractive that it actually encouraged delinquency. Local control of child guidance and juvenile court problems is also in danger of being taken over by the state, the club members were told.

The program Monday was arranged by Robert Snow.

Agriculture uses 50 per cent of Russia's workers and food is in short supply; only 10 per cent of American workers in the same industry produce a food surplus.

Fire Season Returns

The grass burners are loose on the land again and the signal fires of their activity plume the daytime skies and redden the dark of night. They feel so good about their activities that they count themselves public benefactors. All they need to set themselves up in this business is a match and a little irresponsibility.

They'll tell you that the burning brings on the green grass, but if you'll bother to note the unburned fields adjoining the burn areas you'll see that they green just as well or better and that they avoid the losses inherent in burning.

It's dangerous to set grass fires. It's particularly dangerous to children, but each year adults lose their lives in grass fires, too. They are so fickle and so murderously fast in spread that they trap people in their flames. No one who has had a grass fire get out of his control will forget the panic it creates.

A grass fire is wasteful. It damages the growth from which it removes dead vegetation. That it does not destroy it makes this no less true.

And fires are a cruel and deadly assault on wildlife. After a grass fire passes the charred trees and buildings that it ruined are much remarked, but there is no notice of the bird nests destroyed, and the birds and other wildlife, and all the seed pods and other natural foods that wildlife had counted upon for food in the difficult period between winter and the first new growth.

When you're tempted to burn grass put the match back in your pocket and wait a week or so for nature to remove it. She'll do a better job and you won't regret having burned down Uncle Nate's garage or your neighbor's fine cedar hedge.

Identifying Creativity

Some of our more thoughtful folk keep worrying over how to spot and develop the creative individuals among the rising tide of youngsters flooding into our schools. Fresh evidence suggests they will tend to separate themselves from the pack.

A University of California study, financed by the Carnegie Corp. and spurred by one of its trustees, Board Chairman Charles Thomas of Monsanto Chemical, turned up three or four keys to the creative spirit.

The university's researches dealt with genuinely creative persons in art, science, literature, mathematics, architecture and other fields.

One key possessed by all is independence. Another is flexibility. A third is eagerness for and receptiveness to new experience. A fourth is a person's ability to understand himself, to know how to draw on his inner resources and govern his weakness.

Enlarging on these notions in the Monsanto magazine, John Gardner, president of the Carnegie Foundation, says the creative ones show their independence by escaping the imprisonment of group pressures.

They do not hold much with phrases like "everybody's doing it" or "what will people say?" They do not accept something as fact simply because most people seem to believe it.

Yet they do not take their nonconformity to foolish lengths. Usually they dress and behave quite conventionally, saving their rebellion for matters of major consequence.

Those who imagine that bizarre clothing and unorthodox habits demonstrate independence may in fact merely be cloaking a very ordinary, uncreative spirit.

Creative people do not fence themselves in with rigid views, but keep themselves mentally "loose." Sometimes this makes them appear pretty disorganized, especially to teachers who like things in neat packages. But out of this seeming disorder often comes the really original approach to a problem.

The California study shows that the creative person shuts his mind to nothing. He absorbs the past. He tries to see, hear and digest more of the present than his uncreative fellows. Experience, taken with a purpose and not just for its own sake, is fuel to his receptive mind.

The problem, as always, is to try to discern the individual with these special marks at a reasonable early age — and get him started in fruitful directions.

The Package Boys

In American political life, those who hold stoutly either to liberal or to conservative doctrine are by that fact much attached to the powers of words.

Beyond Adlai Stevenson, the liberals have shown greatest interest in figures who, like Minnesota's Senator Hubert Humphrey, tend to articulate the liberal philosophy in "fighting terms."

It should be no surprise that matters are exactly the same on the Right. A substantial part of Sen. Barry Goldwater's appeal to conservatives is his dramatization as a fighter.

It is not in derogation of the "word fighters" on either side to observe that they can with little difficulty find "apause points" which touch their audiences off in outbursts of cheering.

A liberal, chiding our leaders for too much emphasis upon the military element in our ties to foreign friends, can raise the roof with "What we need is more warm hearts and less cold steel."

A conservative, rapping big government, can do the same with: "Let's get the government out of our private lives, and let the people in their infinite wisdom make their own decisions."

Yet stony silence can greet the middle-roader, addressing either liberals or conservatives, when he says:

"Restoring the nation's economy is a very complex matter, with no black and white solutions. This year we are trying this particular tax formula. If it doesn't work, we'll try something else."

A typical response of the doctrinaire liberal or conservative to such talk: "What did he say?"

The truth is, the doctrinaire people are worshipers of order in a world with not much of it. In small matters they seek the neat package. In large affairs, the grand design. They are not readers of history but persistent revisers of history.

They believe that the leader who expresses such designs through a pattern of firmly uttered words will succeed in imposing order on events.

We need the seekers after order. But we need not buy their argument that all is lost without it. For most of the order the world has had was provided by those after-the-fact packagers we call historians.

"Stop Taking Pot Shots at Me"

Edson In Washington Letters To The Press

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (N E A) — President Kennedy's foreign aid message to Congress turns out to be a request for more money for next year in spite of a tremendous effort to make the amount look smaller.

The message is three times as long as last year's. The first nine pages deal with what an insignificant thing the whole U. S. foreign aid program really is—only seven-tenths of 1 per cent of the gross national product—but look how much good it does.

There is extra emphasis on how much the President himself has cut back the program from his January estimates.

There is full endorsement of the recent report from the President's Committee to Strengthen the Security of the Free World, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay. It called for a cutback of foreign aid to more realistic levels that both giver and receivers could afford.

Then, like a night club check at the end of the party, you get the bad news. The foreign aid bill for the year beginning July 1—even after being cut $420 million by the President—still comes up $4.5 billion in new obligatory authority.

This is still $600 million more than Congress appropriated for the current fiscal year.

If this amount is intended to be chicken fat which Congress can cut out of the new program, the President probably will be accommodated by the budget cutters.

Military assistance requests are for $80 million more than this year.

Economic assistance requests are for $316 million more, though $210 million of this is for increased loans which presumably will be paid back. And over 80 per cent of this money is spent in the United States.

The only really new initiative in the foreign aid program for the coming year is a double-barreled proposal to increase private investments in the developing countries. This is a perfectly laudable effort since the intent is to reduce the government's outlays for foreign aid.

The first part of the program calls for revising the existing government guaranty on private investments abroad.

More than $900 million in guaranties is now outstanding. The total grew by $300 million in fiscal 1962 and for the first half of the current fiscal year the amount issued is $160 million.

In spite of this commendable increase there is much concern that the program is not working as effectively as it should because foreign governments won't sign the necessary agreements to make the guaranties effective.

The second proposal calls for amendment of U. S. tax law to give American taxpayers a credit for new investments in developing countries. Europe and Japan would thus be excluded.

The present idea is to grant this tax credit for a trial period of undecided length to see how it would work.

It is still an extremely fuzzy thing because the Treasury Department, which is working out the details, hasn't come up with anything definite on how big the credits would be. Present thinking is that they would be larger than tax credits granted on new investments which promote domestic growth.

This is an extremely tricky proposal. If the foreign credit is bigger than the domestic credit, it might become an incentive to build plants abroad to employ cheaper foreign labor.

Such investments also might have a bad initial effect on America's balance of payments position, though this might be contracts.

The tax credit would be a one-time thing, applying only to the original investment.

Foreign earnings from the original investment would not be eligible for the tax credit. A credit on reinvestment abroad of such earnings is being considered.

Net capital outflow from American investments in Latin America, Asia and Africa is reported by Department of Commerce at $395 million in 1961. Reinvested earnings in 1961 were $338 million for a total investment of $733 million. Figures for 1962 are not yet available.

In a speech in Mexico City last year, however, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon declared that investments could be increased by $300 million to a $1 billion-a-year level.

This would reduce government foreign aid somewhat. But the tax credit cost is unknown.

Three members of the staff at St. Francis hospital are leaving next week for Germany for a visit with relatives and friends in their old homeland. They are Sister M. Ladislaus, Sister M. Henrietta and Sister M. Eleanor. It is their first visit there in 32 years.

Gerald Gleich, 912 Second Ave., Escanaba, a student at the University of Michigan, has been elected one of seven vice presidents of the Michigan Union. A freshman at the medical school of the University, he will represent that student body and the School of Dentistry on the union board, a sounding board for men's activities on the campus.

Two Gladstone high school students won top honors at a sub-district speech contest held in Iron Mountain last night. Gordon Nelson won the oratorical contest and Donal Germaine in extemporaneous speech.

Fifty-two farmers in the Bark River area have signed contracts to put in acreages of sugar beets this coming season. This will mean the planting of more than 200 acres of beets this year. The Menominee mill is making the contracts.

GLADSTONE

Frank Stupak Elected Mayor

Members of the Gladstone City Commission Monday elected Frank Stupak as mayor and Ray Norton mayor pro-tem, when they held their re-organization meeting at City Hall. Stupak received three votes and Norton two.

Norton was also unanimously elected to represent the City of Gladstone on the Delta County Board of Supervisors. The second commissioner elected to the board was George Young. Young and Conan Fisher were each nominated for the board position, however Young received three votes and Fisher two.

Mayor Stupak and John R. Olson, city assessor, are also members of the county board by virtue of their office.

In other actions, the commission set the next regular meeting date, Monday, April 22, for a public hearing on the special assessment roll for curbing on Montana Ave. from 16th to 18th St., and for the curbing and blacktop on Michigan Ave. from 17th St. to Highway U. S. 2-41.

Get Harbor Report

Commissioners also approved sending Willard LaFond, superintendent of the electrical distribution system, to attend the Municipal Utilities Conference in Lansing April 17-19.

A request from Hilding Norstrom to break the curbing 20 feet from the stop sign on Wisconsin Ave. west 90 feet to allow entrance to the parking lot at the A&P Store, located at 10th and Wisconsin Ave., was approved. Norstrom told the commission that the entire parking area will be blacktopped and that work on the lot will begin within the next two weeks.

City Manager H. J. Henrikson informed the commission that he had received a work report from the Northern Michigan Engineers on the harbor project and that approximately 79.9 per cent of the project has been completed.

According to Henrikson, one payment of $52,546.73 has been made for work previously completed and presently a second payment of $10,729.81 is due the contractor, Gallagher Marine of Escanaba, and the engineering firm for $250. The commission authorized the city manager to make payment.

Discuss New Budget

The city manager also informed the commission that before final approval of the entire harbor project is given a representative of the Michigan Waterways Commission will come to Gladstone to inspect the work.

A request from the city employees for a 10 per cent increase in their wages plus three weeks paid vacation for those employed over 10 years was tabled until the budget meeting.

Henrikson also informed the commissioners that he had contacted the Hansen Canning Co. regarding residents complaints about the smoke problem in the area. "I talked with Mr. Hansen and he informed me that his firm had made arrangements with Nelson Boiler of Green Bay for the purchase of an oil-fired boiler. This should almost completely eliminate the smoke problem in the area as the oil-fired boiler will carry the bulk of the load and the stoker-fired one would only be used as a booster," he said.

The balance of the meeting Monday was preliminary discussion on the new city budget.

REMINDER BY VOICE

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Motorists will receive some friendly advice upon entering the Ohio Turnpike during the next few weeks: "Make sure you have enough gasoline."

Entrance plaza personnel are being instructed to issue the reminder orally. Executive Director C. W. Hartford says it's an experiment to try and reduce the number of vehicles stranded on the northern Ohio toll road with dry gasoline tanks.

Turnpike officials have posted reminder signs and are continuing to use them, but Hartford says "results are something less than dramatic."

Kathleen Mary Adams Bride Of Robert Cook

The Rev. Robert J. Yonkman heard nuptial vows uniting in marriage Kathleen Mary Adams and Robert Kenneth Cook at Trinity Episcopal Church Saturday.

The double ring, candlelight ceremony was solemnized at 7:30 p. m., for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams, 807 Michigan Ave., and the son of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Cook, of Concord, Mass. The couple greeted guests in the undercroft of the church following the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length sheer white wool sheath fashioned with a fitted embroidered midriff and short sleeves. Her short veil was attached to a net bow and she carried a white cymbidium orchid attached to her white prayer book.

Mrs. Robert Adams, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a pink sheath

City Manager Says Manistique Job's Too Tough

MANISTIQUE — Clarence A. Motz, 47, new city manager of Manistique announced at the council meeting Monday night that he was leaving the community April 15.

He gave as reason that the community's problems are larger than he thought they were and that the salary, $8,400 a year and $300 expenses, is not enough for the job. The salary is $1,200 higher than that of his predecessor.

Mayor Harold Carlson said Saturday that Motz would leave Saturday at 10 a. m. but indicated at the council meeting last night that there's been no discussion of salary increase with the new manager.

Margin Boosted For Constitution

DETROIT (AP) — Official returns from 61 of Michigan's 83 counties show the state's new constitution's majority for adoption has jumped from 8,176 to 8,331 votes. This was an increase of 205 votes over the figures reported after 53 counties had been canvassed.

The vote, which includes the unofficial returns from the other 22 counties, now is:

Yes — 810,230.
No — 801,849.

Robert Montgomery, election director, said there doesn't appear to be substantial grounds for a state wide recount.

Election officials in Genesee County were rechecking their figures in an effort to determine why 7,000 voters apparently decided not to cast a ballot on the constitution issue. They were comparing the constitution vote with the figures in the race for state superintendent of public instruction.

Members of the Board of Canvassers held a round-robin telephone conference Monday and then instructed Montgomery not to release any further comparisons between the official canvass figures and Associated Press tabulations.

Newsman protested the board had no authority to keep the figures secret.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, when asked for a ruling on the canvassers' order, said the canvass figures "are public records and should be available to the press."

The canvassers then withdrew their order.

Ford River Lions Elect Officers

The Ford River Lions Club held election of officers at the regular meeting held Monday. William H. Spith was elected president.

Other officers who will serve are: Dr. William Hemes, first vice president; Ormal Wellman, second vice president; Victor Friedgen, third vice president; Joseph Radmacher Jr., secretary; Donald Jacobsen, treasurer; Ralph Nordquist, Lion tamer; Elmer Peterson, tail twister; Lawrence Kidd and Richard Freeman, directors for two years and Robert Hawes and Donald Kline, directors for one year.

In other business the Lions made plans for a smelt fry on Friday, April 26 at the Lions Community Building in Ford River. John Pendergraft is chairman in charge.

Saturday, May 11 is ladies night and installation of officers will be held.

Escanaba smelt are running best in Chicago and they are widely advertised by the Toffenetti restaurants. The Escanaba Centennial delegation in Chicago discovered this on the restaurant marquee, but the truth is that here smelt production is at a standstill and the run is still a week to 10 days away. (Daily Press Photo)

Escanaba Smelt Now At Their Best In Chicago

The famed Escanaba smelt are declining in numbers, none are being caught right now, the best Escanaba smelt are currently available at Toffenetti's restaurants in Chicago, and relief for the local smelt-starved gourmet is still some 10 days away.

Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe and others of the local delegation attending the Centennial doings sponsored by the Swedish Engineers' Society of Chicago were impressed when they saw the sign on the Toffenetti restaurant marquee:

"Spring! Fresh Escanaba smelts are running!"

Back home in Escanaba the picture was less promising than Mr. Toffenetti advertised.

"There are no smelt being taken now in this area," said Clarence Royer of the Gladstone Fisheries. "Fact is there's no perch, whitefish or any other kinds coming in because the fishermen have had to live their nets when the ice-breaker came in to open the harbor."

Smelt production has been declining here over the past several years and last winter was worse than most, Royer said.

For commercial fishermen this is the in-between season: The ice still holds in the bay but it is not solid enough to venture out on to set or lift nets; and it will be several days before the ice moves out and fishermen can get their boats into the water. Fishing is at a standstill at a season when the market is good.

What happened to reduce the smelt population is anybody's guess, said Cliff Long, Conservation Department fish biologist. Perhaps the answer is that this is a period at or near the bottom of the smelt "cycle" here and the population will increase in the years ahead.

Down From 1958 Peak
Owen Bennett, assistant district supervisor of the Conservation Department, recalls that last winter in visiting some fishermen on the ice the take from three big pound nets was only a couple hundred pounds of smelt.

Fishermen said that production was picking up this spring, however, and big lifts were being made last week before the cutter Mackinaw broke up bay ice. The prospect that there will be a good spawning run on local streams is rather remote, considering how great the decline has been in smelt production.

Smelt are not only fewer in number these past several years but the price to the fishermen has declined greatly.

Figures supplied by Cliff Long of the Conservation Department show that back in 1950 the total commercial production of smelt on Lake Michigan totaled 1,625,300 pounds and the value was $111,883. The production increased steadily to a peak of 6,155,200 pounds in 1958 and then slipped rapidly downward. Fisheries on Green Bay produce about 90 per cent of the Lake Michigan smelt total.

Last year the smelt take on Green Bay was 1,037,800 pounds and the value was $42,000, a decline from the year before.

The drop in smelt production has affected local industries other than the fishermen themselves. The Whitey Cat Food Co. of Escanaba, whose annual production was canned in Gladstone at the Hansen Canning Co. each spring during the smelt run, is now processing all of its cat food at Theinsville, Wis.

Claude Tobin, proprietor of the Whitey Cat, said no canning was done at Gladstone last year and none will be done there this spring. "It's the lack of a dependable supply of smelt here," he said. "At Theinsville we use frozen smelt and can the cat food when our supply is getting low."

The Whitey Cat Food Co. was organized by Jack Whitney of Escanaba and was purchased about 1955 by Robert E. LeMire, William Leiper, John Bissell and Tobin. LeMire and Leiper sold out to Bissell and Tobin and the death of Mr. Bissell leaves Tobin the sole proprietor.

There will be plenty of smelt to satisfy the dio netter who is looking for sport on the several smelt streams of the Delta County area.

The smelt spawning run (based on last year's experience) will start about April 20 in the Nahma area of Big Bay de Noc; about April 24 from Gladstone north and a couple days later on the Escanaba shore.

Harriman Takes High Ranking Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

NEW JOB: Taking on a new job Monday, W. Averell Harriman was advised: "You have a great future."

Harriman, 71, who as undersecretary of state is taking on one more of a long line of government posts, quipped back: "I've had very great difficulty keeping a job very long. I would like your help in keeping this job for a certain period."

Harriman, who will now rank No. 3 in the State Department, was sworn in by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, next in command below Secretary Dean Rusk.

NEW FURNISHINGS: The House Rules Committee has given its approval to a plan to buy about $3.5 million in office equipment for the new House office building under construction.

Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., declared there will be "no extravagance" when it comes to purchasing the equipment. Members of Congress, he said, have always taken good care of their furniture—so good, much of it is at least 50 years old.

Based on about 350 private suites and committee rooms in the new Rayburn Building, said Thomas, the average cost of the furniture would be about $9,000 to $10,000 per suite.

DAY FROM HISTORY: Today is the 21st anniversary of a valiant but bitter day in American history—the fall of Bataan to the Japanese, on April 9, 1942.

In a special message commemorating the Americans and Filipinos who "struggled to the end with magnificent valor against overwhelming odds," President Kennedy said Monday:

"For the courage of those brave men we today express our gratitude. Their spirit sustains us still."

To mark the day, Philippines Ambassador Amelito Mutuc and Capt. Tazewell T. Shepard Jr., Kennedy's naval aide, will lay wreaths on the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

Ricochet Bullet Proves Fatal To Windsor Man

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A Windsor, Ont., youth believed to have been felled by a bullet that ricocheted off a tree, died Monday in the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Bruce Bowden, 19, was hospitalized in critical condition Saturday after he was struck in the temple by a 22-caliber bullet.

Police said Bowden had been target shooting on a farm near Onsted.

A dinner was served at the Falls Hotel at 12:30 p. m. Tables were attractively decorated in the Easter motif. A program was presented after dinner. "Perfect Day," and "Sing Me A Chantey," were sung by Earl Kresia of Newberry State Hospital staff, accompanied by Mrs. Rita Gustafson. O. F. Eichen of the Toastmaster's Club gave a talk, "The Wise Prince."

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Glodia Bronte of the Soo, Mrs. Nystrom of Escanaba, Mrs. Earlene Ingraham of Munising and Delia Hild, Newberry.

More Economics, Earlier, Is School Goal

More of the economic facts of life should be taught in school and this should begin earlier than at present, teachers assembled at Newberry Friday for a 4-county institute agreed. Teachers heard reports showing only five per cent of students graduating have had economics courses.

Supt. Carl Olson of Manistique noted in the discussions on more economic education, that much information is contained in other courses, not labeled "economics." These include consumer education in shop and home economics courses, geography, history and social problems courses. About 60 per cent of Manistique students take economics. Two classes are offered.

During the Newberry institute, William Cook, Lowell Cooper and Dick Bonifas served as discussion leaders. The speakers included Dr. Theral Herrie, executive director of the Michigan Council of Economic Development and Dr. John E. Maher, economist for MSU at Oakland.

Plan Easter Sunrise Services

Easter Sunrise service, sponsored by the Manistique Ministerial Assn., will be conducted at 7 a. m., Sunday at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. William M. Farnham of the Presbyterian Church leading in worship. The host pastor, Rev. Harry J. Davidson, will deliver the message, "Not Seeing, But Believing." Refreshments will be served following the service. Persons of all denominations are invited to join in the union fellowship.

Library Receives Books On Banking

The Manistique Public Library has received a gift of two books in banking, through Fred H. Hahne of the First National Bank.

The books are "Financing American Enterprise," the story of Commercial banking by Paul B. Trescott and "The Commercial Banking Industry," presenting in detail the structure, organization and function of the banking system.

The books are a welcome addition to the economics section at the library. Mrs. Tan McKiligan, librarian reported.

Infants Baptized

Two infants, Kimberly Gail Tuffnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tuffnell and Eric Cushman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Cushman were baptized at the First Methodist Church at the 11 a. m. church service Sunday, April 7. Also receiving baptism were Mrs. Ruth Kerridge and Steven Fish. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Cushman had their membership transferred from the East Main Methodist Church of Kalamazoo to the local church. Persons received as new members were Karl Johnson, Roxanne Cushman, Gregory and Ronald Soukup, John LaRose, Mr. and Mrs. F. Dale Kane, Mrs. Hugh Fish and son, Steven.

Can't Nip Habit

Dear Ann Landers: Several weeks ago my husband triumphantly announced that he was giving up smoking. I was delighted, since Paul had been a heavy smoker for many years and I never believed he possessed enough will power to conquer the habit.

Paul was fine for about three days. Then he got so that he had to "go for a walk" after dinner. When he returns, after 10 minutes, he always smells of cigarette smoke. At bedtime he goes to the basement "to get something" and returns—once again, smelling of cigarette smoke.

On numerous occasions I have walked into Paul's office unexpectedly and found him smoking. The maneuvering and contortions he goes through to get rid of a cigarette are comical.

I have never said one word to him about this, but if he can't stop smoking why doesn't he admit it instead of making himself look ridiculous?—S.B.I.

Dear S. B. I.: Paul is childish. He's trying to cover up his "naughty behavior" because he's ashamed to admit he can't kick the habit.

Say nothing. The "walks" after

First Lutheran, Trenary, Will Present Cantata

TRENARY—The First Lutheran Church Choir of Trenary will present the Easter Cantata "Mine Is a Risen Saviour" by Byron M. Carmony Thursday, April 11, at 7:30 p. m. at the church.

The choir is under the direction of Mrs. William Bucholtz and Mrs. Gene Holmquist is the pianist.

The story, narrated by Bruce Bucholtz, begins with Jesus carrying the cross to Golgotha's Hill and ends with His reappearance to Mary in the Garden. The scripture readings will be given by Cathy Iho.

The choir will sing "He Could Not Save Himself and Save Me Too", "Oh, the Awful Darkness!", "He is the son of God", "He Became Poor", "Mine is a Risen Saviour", and "Hear the Risen Saviour Calling." The men of the choir will sing "He Tore in Twain the Temple Veil" and the ladies will sing "There is No Need for Weeping."

Choir members are, Mrs. Fred Van Hala, Mrs. William Hytinen, Mrs. Victor Niemi, Mrs. Henry Tuuri, Mrs. Andrew Hytinen, Mrs. Tauno Jarvinen, Miss Beverly Kaukola, Miss Gretchen Kaukola, Miss Paula Iho, Miss Judith Tuuri, Miss Kristine Kalhio, Miss Linda Jarvinen, Miss Ann Weiland, John Rama, John Oberstar Jr., Arnold Hill, Harvey Trott and Tauno Jarvinen.

At the conclusion of the program, Pastor Tauno Jarvinen will give the Benediction and coffee will be served by the Ladies Guild. The public is invited.

dinner and the trips to the basement are probably the only exercise he gets.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you are not a doctor but I couldn't talk to a man about this so please try to help me. I am 17 years old and am built like an ironing board.

I have heard of creams and oils but I'm not sure they do any good. I have also heard of an operation where a surgeon can insert paraffin cups. I would even be willing to have the operation if I thought it would help me be more attractive to fellows.

I've had only four dates in my life and I'm sure this is the reason. What boy wants to take out a girl who has no shape at all?

Please tell me what to do.—DATELESS

Dear Dateless: The creams and oils do a lot of good—for the companies that sell them. I have never heard of a cream or an oil that added inches to a bustline.

As for surgery, you'll have to see your doctor—but I'd strongly oppose such radical measures.

I don't know what kind of fellows you are trying to attract, but if they go looking for dates with a tape measure they aren't worth bothering about. I suspect your real problem is a flat personality.

Dear Ann Landers: There is an awful lot of cheating going on in our room at school. Kids sit with books in their laps during exams. They look on each other's papers for the answers. I have seen these cheaters cribbing from prepared notes.

Our teacher has very poor eyesight and doesn't see what is going on. Shall we tell her who these chiselers are? It seems unfair that some of us should break our heads studying and see the cheaters get grades as good as ours.

Your advice is needed.—HON-EST INJUN

Dear Injun: Tell the teacher WHAT is going on—but don't tell her WHO. If her eyesight is poor, perhaps she should invite another teacher to "assist" her during examinations.

I am opposed to informing. I firmly believe that the chiselers and cheaters do themselves in eventually.

Confidential to UP To You: Souvenir hunting my eye. It's stealing. If everyone took a tablecloth as a "souvenir" the restaurants would be in pretty bad shape.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

You Agree With These Opinions?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

Medicine can sometimes do you more harm than good.

At least a third of the medicine taken by people over 35 is probably unnecessary—and represents the formation of a bad habit instead of a good one.

Instead of reaching for headache tablets, a pep pill or a tranquilizing tablet, a potion or a lotion, they could better banish fatigues and fears from their lives by walking an hour more a day and sleeping an hour more each night.

Medicine taken as a substitute for healthy common sense is nothing but a menace.

Bowlers More Valuable

Ten active bowlers are worth more to the country—and to themselves—than 100 sedentary baseball fans.

One of the wryest prices of middle age is that you so seldom open your mail with a warm sense of expectancy. If it isn't a bill, it's somebody trying to sell you something you don't really need or want.

I always feel sorry for a teenage girl whose mother wears a pony tail so she can look young, too.

Nothing starts the week off better than to meet a polite driver on the Monday morning bus.

Ever notice how there's always a doorman around to help you out of a cab when you're in perfect health? But where do they all hide when you're on crutches?

It is a waste of sympathy to feel sorry for yourself when the sun is out. Always save your self-pity, as you do your money, for a rainy day.

Shoes Spoil Tempers

Perhaps we'd be more responsible fathers if our employers graded us periodically—and we had to take our report cards home for the kids to sign.

Whenever I see a cranky man or woman I always wonder if the real cause of their bad temper may be the fact they are wearing shoes half a size too small. Much of the tension in modern life springs from failure to buy shoes that fit properly.

I feel more uplifted standing on a hill at twilight and hearing distant church bells in a valley than I do seated in a concert hall listening to the finest symphony orchestra on earth.

There are some goals in life that can never be achieved. No matter how dearly a man loves his wife he can never quite afford to rent an apartment that has all the closet space she'd like.

The biggest single illusion in modern business is that you can get rid of a problem by sending 10 carbon copies of it to others instead of solving it yourself.

Vescolani To Talk

Evaluation of criticism currently being leveled at elementary education is one purpose for the Michigan Education Association's Department of Elementary School Principals annual meeting to be held April 18-19 at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

The 800 principals will hear Dr. Frederick J. Vescolani, professor of education, Michigan State University, on "Answering Our Critics."

Science And Health To Be Printed In Paperback Edition

A paperback edition will be published on May 8 of one of the world's most widely-circulated religious books—"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

This is the book that for nearly 70 years has been read along with the Bible at all Christian Science church services, in place of sermons by ministers. Christian Scientists turn to it regularly for explanation of the Bible and religious inspiration.

Although this will be the first paperback edition of Science and Health, the book has already reached sales of several millions since it first appeared in 1875.

The new 700-page paperback, like all other editions of Science and Health, will be published by the trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy, in Boston. Printed on standard book paper, it will be priced at $1.95, the publishers have announced.

Sawyer Inviting Public For May 11

SAWYER AFB — Armed Forces Day 1963 will be observed at an open house here Saturday, May 11. The public is invited.

Plans call for ground displays of aircraft and other items with fly-overs of various types of aircraft. The SAGE Direction Center and other base facilities will be open for inspection.

The Sawyer gates will open at 10 a. m. (EST), with the program beginning a half-hour later. The celebration will end at 4:30 p. m.

Betty Minsky Is Author Of Guide

CHEBOYGAN — Betty Jane Minsky, manager of the Cheboygan Chamber of Commerce and wife of John A. Minsky, a Mackinaw City High School teacher and mother of four, is author of "Gimmicks Make Money In Retailing," just published at $4.75 by Fairchild Publications of New York.

Mrs. Minsky began writing 10 years ago. Her first article appeared in a Canadian newspaper. For the past five years her articles have appeared mostly in trade and business newspapers.

She is correspondent for Fairchild Publications and for Religious News Service and has written several articles about Escanaba stores. She and her husband moved to Cheboygan four years ago from Marquette.

Gosson-Nardi Contacts Record Made In Mexico

The recording that instructs users in the insertion and removal of contact lenses which Dr. Alfred A. Gosson, the optometrist, and Bruno Nardi, co-authored several years ago, is being produced in Spanish for the South American market.

Dr. Gosson received his first royalty check this week from Platic Contact Lens de Mexico, the firm in Mexico City which has made a small number of the records to test buyer acceptance in Mexico, Argentina, Colombia and Venezuela.

If the record is popular in those countries the firm will promote it in other South American countries. The American record which the South American offering duplicates is a Wesley-Jessen Audio Visual Aid produced two years ago.

Sales have been modest in the United States, said Dr. Gosson. "I think maybe Americans are too sophisticated for this sort of thing," he said. "Maybe it will do better in South America, but I'm building a new home in the Goulais Addition and my first royalty check will be a long way from enough to buy a door knob."

DePere Motorist Is Fined $50

Lloyd J. Courtney, 36, of Rte. 2, DePere, Wis., was fined $50 plus costs of $5 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, upon arraignment before Justice Ross P. Davis Monday.

Courtney, who was unable to pay the fine at the time, was remanded to the county jail.

He was arrested by State Police at 1:45 a. m. Sunday on U. S. 2-41 near Rapid River. A patrol car observed his car driving over the centerline and weaving on and off the roadway. When he was stopped officers said he was found to be under the influence.

Post Auxiliary Plans Activities At Bark River

BARK RIVER—The Rheaume-Knauf American Legion Auxiliary made plans for the future at the regular meeting held Thursday evening at Andy's Club room.

A bake sale will be held at Derocher's Market, Saturday, April 20, at 1 p. m. Announcement was made of the Upper 11th District meeting for Legion Posts and units at the Legion Club Rooms in Escanaba April 27, at 3 p. m. A number of members plan to attend.

May is Gold Star month and a special program will be arranged for the next meeting, Thursday, May 2. Gold Star mothers in the unit are Mesdames Herman Palmgren, Fred Knauf, Lucy Compo, Ida Peterson, Henry Nelson and To mDeLoughary.

Memorial Day service will be held at the various cemeteries in the unit with the program to be announced later. The Upper 11th Spring Conference will be held in Marquette, June 20-23. Anyone interested in attending is urged to contact the secretary, Lois Hall.

Auxiliary president, Martha Hurtbese, welcomed a new member, Betty LaVigne, in the auxiliary. Lunch was served by Lois Hall.

Den Three of the local Cut Scouts have been busy at their last three meetings. Three weeks ago they made kites when they met at the Donald VanEnkevort home. Two weeks ago the boys made bird houses, and at this week's meeting they worked on Mother's Day gifts which they will complete at a later meeting. Two new members were welcomed; Gary Phillips and Allen Sackch, bringing the total membership of Den 3 to nine members.

Special 4-dr. sedan tops all Class D middle size cars with V-8 engines in Mobil Economy Run!

Here's official proof of everything you've heard about the Buick Special V-8 with Dual Path Turbine Drive*. It's a terrific performer—a shameless gas miser. Facts: it's beaten every V-8, big or small, three years running. This year, by at least 2.34 mpg! And with regular gas.

Of course, not everyone can get this winning gas mileage in everyday driving (Run drivers are trained experts—the engines, finely tuned). But this rough, tough 2500-mile test proves how much real gas economy is built into every Special.

And the Special has lots more going for it. Like—choice of three smooth, snappy transmissions. An economical V-6, if you prefer (only Buick has it!). All thoroughly Buick. All amazingly low priced.

Christian Science Society
The meaning for today of Christ Jesus' complete triumph over the flesh will be emphasized this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

Golden Text: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit" (Romans 8:1).

The Bible Lesson is entitled, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real? Related readings include this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mark Baker Eddy (p. 233): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them."

Church Keeps Old Organ, Hand-Made 125 Years Ago

VENEDY, III. (AP)—Parishioners of the San Salvador Lutheran church were undecided whether to buy a new organ or repair the old one which had been in the church balcony for 98 years.

They hired Richard Hosier, an organ builder, to tell them what to do.

Hosier dismantled the instrument. He found the skeletons of four birds, rats of dead insects and a first-rate organ, hand-crafted 125 years ago in Germany and containing 891 wooden pipes.

Hosier estimated the organ was worth at least $20,000. The parishioners have decided to keep it.

Lemmer P. T. A. Hears Talks On City Recreation

John Lemmer P. T. A. had Art Petersen, City Recreation director, as guest speaker, at the monthly meeting held last evening in the multi-purpose room of the school.

He discussed many aspects of the recreational program including Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball and swimming facilities at Ludington Park. He outlined city sponsored activities planned for the coming season.

Arni Dunathan of the Escanaba Beach staff spoke on water safety and emphasized the necessity of everyone learning to swim. Terry Auger, also a member of the staff, explained swimming lessons for various ages and

List Six New Leaders In U.P. Keg Tourney

GLADSTONE — There were six new leaders in the Upper Peninsula Men's bowling tournament when the dust settled after a heavy weekend of firing, it was announced today by Walter VanDeWeghe, tournament secretary.

The new tournament pacers were posted in the regular team, doubles and all events and the minor team, doubles and singles. In addition, there was a new co-leader in the regular singles.

Grabby's Steak House of Marinette slammed a 2,980 to take over the top rung in the regular team ladder, WAGN and Henes Maytag of Marinette moved into the second and third spots ahead of former leader Shamrock of Ontonagon.

Greg Schneller and Ray Frenette of Hancock grabbed the top spot in the regular doubles with a 1,209 total.

Fran Bourgeois of Marinette is the new leader in the regular all events with an 1,803 total.

Jumping into a tie for first place in the regular singles was Fred Cerasoli of Iron Mountain with a 640 series, matching leader John Hasenfus of Marinette.

Escanaba Bosch Beer walloped a 2,800 count to take over first place in the minor teams and the V&E Bar of Chatham moved into the second spot with a 2,697 total.

Ray Kaunisto and Art Roo of Sault Ste. Marie are the new minor doubles leaders with a 1,181 total while Carl Westenberg and Bob L'Houillier of Escanaba took second with 1,159.

Mark Willey Jr. of Ishpeming vaulted into the minor singles lead with a 666 series.

President Kennedy lets go with his high hard one as he opens the American League baseball season in Washington Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

First Pitch Low, Wide

Senators, Kennedy Off To Poor Start

By The Associated Press

President Kennedy, who says he has his good months and his bad ones, and the Washington Senators, who have mostly bad ones, are off and losing in the American League race.

The active baseball season is all over for the President, but the Senators, last a year ago, have 161 games to go.

The Baltimore Orioles, on the strength of two quick home runs in the second inning and the fact that most of the Washingtons hit the ball squarely at somebody, tripped the Senators 3-1 in the traditional opener in the national capital Monday.

There were 43,000 on hand, including the President, whose first and only pitch was low and wide. In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds, the pennant pick in many circles, got off winging with a 5-2 victory over the revamped Pittsburgh Pirates.

The other American league teams open the long campaign today.

Yankees Face K. C.

The New York Yankees begin their drive for a fourth straight flag at Kansas City. Although for a while this spring they had an injury list almost as long as the roster, only Roger Maris, hampered by a pulled left leg muscle, and pitching ace Whitey Ford, who has a sore left shoulder, will miss the opener. Ralph Terry, 23-12, will pitch for the Yanks against Diego Segui, 8-5.

Ray Herbert, 20-9, will pitch for the Chicago White Sox against Jim Bunning, 19-10, at Detroit. Bill Monbouquette, 15-13, will be on the mound for the Boston Red Sox against Ken McBride, 11-5, in Los Angeles, and Jim Grant, 7-10, will hurl for the Cleveland Indians against Camilo Pascual, 20-11, for the home Minnesota Twins, in the other opener.

The Senators and Orioles will be idle.

There are five games on the National League slate—the defending champion San Francisco Giants at Houston, Milwaukee at Pittsburgh, the Los Angeles Dodgers at the Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati at Philadelphia at night and the St. Louis Cardinals at New York.

Barber Has Trouble

Lefty Steve Barber won the opener for the Orioles, but he had his troubles. The fastballer, who was in the Army much of last season and then got sick when he came back full time, was not overly sharp.

He gave up only seven hits, but the Senators hammered the ball hard. Stu Miller came on in the ninth inning, after a lead-off double by Minnie Mingo, and got the side out.

All the Baltimore scoring was packed into a second-inning burst. With Don Rudolph, the loser, on

Tigers Tackle White Sox

Opening Day Time To Hope

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP) — Opening day is a time to hope and Manager Bob Scheffing is starting the new season off by seeing the Tigers going after a Yankee team with troubles.

"No doubt about it, the Yankees are the team to beat," said Scheffing on the eve of Detroit's opener against the Chicago White Sox before 40,000 at Tiger Stadium today.

"But they have a few problems and remember, they haven't had a runaway the last few years."

Scheffing had Jim Bunning geared to pitch his fifth opener for the rebuilt Tigers. He feels the acquisition of two new regulars—third baseman Bubba Phillips and catcher Gus Triandos — will help make the Tigers into a strong challenger to Yankee supremacy.

Ray Herbert was to be Bunning's pitching opponent after Gov. Romney and Mayor Cavanagh complete the traditional opening-pitch ceremony.

Pressure On Joe

Scheffing's feelings about the Yankees are built around the world champion's only trade. They dealt long-time star Bill Skowron to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Stan Williams, a 14-game winner. The departure of Skowron puts pressure on young Joe Peppitone to come through at first base—and Scheffing wonders if he will.

"I feel the Yankees might not be as strong a hitting club because they traded Skowron," said Scheffing. "He was a pretty good hitter for them for years and he got his big hits when they counted most.

"Peppitone may not help as much as they think he can. I didn't think too much of him in Florida when he was batting against left handers. I'll bet now he's not even in there all the time against them."

"Their pitching wasn't the best last year and maybe Williams will help it. But how much? Perhaps not enough to compensate for the loss of Skowron."

"And I have an idea Tom Tresh isn't really as good a hitter as he was last year, too. He hit .286 and drove in 93 runs, but can he do it again?"

League Tougher?

"I think the league as a whole probably will be a little closer, but let's face it the Yankees still are the team to beat despite their problems."

"You hope and you think about it all the time and somehow the Yankees always manage to come out of it okay."

"I guess Minnesota is next. They've got a strong, set team with good power. Their shortstop (Zoilo Versalles) is the key man—he can hold the team together if he keeps playing well."

"Baltimore or we are the most improved. I feel we both helped ourselves with trades."

The Tigers start the season with 11 new players on the 28-man roster and Scheffing feels his club will be a sure contender.

He had an all-veteran batting order ready for the White Sox, who have four newcomers in their opening day lineup — Ron Hansen, Pete Ward, Dave Nicholson and J. C. Martin.

The opening day lineups:

DETROIT	CHICAGO
Phillips, 3B	Landis, CF
Bruton, CF	Fox, 2b
Kaline, RF	Cunningham, 1b
Colavito, LF	Robinson, RF
Cash, 1B	Ward, 3b

Schools Eye New Athletic League

STEPHENSON — Groundwork was laid for a possible new high school athletic conference composed of Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin schools, including Escanaba, at a meeting of school officials and athletic directors here Monday.

Plans for the proposed new organization will hinge on approval by the boards of education of the schools involved, it was pointed out by officials today.

Attending last night's meeting were representatives of schools in Escanaba, Stephenson, Menominee, Marinette and Preble. Two other Upper Peninsula schools have indicated an interest in the tentative formation of a new conference but were not represented.

The town of Preble, located in the immediate Green Bay area, has a school with an enrollment of 1,050 students and will have no athletic conference affiliation at this year.

Escanaba and Stephenson are at present members of the 10-team Great Lakes Conference which is zset with growing pains with the request of additional schools for membership in recent years.

Menominee and Marinette both are members of the Big Rivers Conference which is disbanding at the end of the current school year.

Approximate enrollment of the other schools represented at the meeting are: Escanaba, 950; Menominee, 950; Marinette, 850; and Stephenson, 450. The two schools which have indicated an interest in the plans, but were not present at the meeting, are both Class B in size.

A second meeting has been called for Wednesday, May 8, at Menominee. If the tentative plans for organization jell, officials would form the new conference to become effective in the 1964 school year.

Officials Blasted In Cage Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Simmering St. Louis brass were writing an official protest today over the officiating in their National Basketball Association Western Division final playoff against Los Angeles and were getting heavy vocal support from Red Auerbach, Boston's only active volcano.

The Hawks and Lakers meet in the sixth game of their series at St. Louis tonight with Los Angeles holding a 3-2 edge. The Royals and Celtics, tied at three victories apiece, meet at Boston Wednesday night in the decisive game of the Eastern Division final.

Meanwhile, it was open season on officials, Hawks General Manager Marty Blake said "the officiating has been inconsistent" and "we're getting rough housed by the Lakers." Blake also said the Hawks would protest remarks allegedly made to Coach Harry Gallatin by Referee Earl Strom.

get you" to Gallatin.

Lakers coach Fred Schaus was not available for comment and no other spokesman for the Los Angeles team could be reached.

Although officiating came in for the biggest blast by Hawk coaches, none suggested signal-calling beat St. Louis Sunday. The Lakers simply out-played the Hawks.

But Hawk coaches were outraged at injuries to their team. Two of their first six men will be crippled.

Celtics' Coach Auerbach came back with a loud voice and a set of statistics to criticize the work of referees Sid Borgia and Norm Drucker in Sunday night's 109-99 Cincinnati victory.

"We just want a 30-50 chance from the officials," said Auerbach. "Cincinnati has played three good games in this series, they've won. Two of them were great. The Royals were not so great last (Sunday) night but got some help from the officials."

Cincinnati Question Marks Become Exclamation Points

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson played a punctuation game in his player rating book today, straightening the question marks following the names of Frank Robinson, Gene Freese and Pete Rose into big, fat exclamation points.

Robinson provided the power and Freese and Rose handled the finesse as the Reds began their bid for the National League pennant with a 5-2 victory Monday over the revamped Pittsburgh Pirates in the traditional baseball opener before 28,896 at Crosley Field.

In the traditional American League opener at Washington, before 43,022, President Kennedy threw out the first ball, but Jim Gentile and Boog Powell hit two balls out of the park for a 3-1 Baltimore triumph.

The rest of the AL gets under way today with the New York Yankees at Kansas City, Chicago at Detroit, Cleveland at Minnesota and Boston at Los Angeles in the only night game.

The Reds will help Philadelphia open its schedule in a night after the rest of the league gets under way with an afternoon program that has Los Angeles at Chicago, San Francisco at Houston, Milwaukee at Pittsburgh and St. Louis at New York.

The Reds made good use of their head start as Robinson belted a first-inning two-run homer that sent Cincinnati ahead to stay while Rose and Freese piled up the double plays in support of Jim O'Toole's six-hit pitching.

Robinson hit under .200 last April and seemed headed for another slow start when he came up with a sore shoulder in spring training.

But the slugging outfielder who wound up batting .342 with 39 homers and 136 runs batted in as the Reds finished third last year, slashed a line drive in his first at bat, off Pittsburgh starter Earl Francis.

Freese, virtually a complete loss to the Reds last year after he suffered a broken leg in spring training, legged out an infield hit in a two-run second inning uprising and moved well on the double-play by starting one.

Rose, a rookie not even on the Reds' roster, started at second base in place of veteran Don Blasingame, was involved in three smooth double plays and drew a walk before Robinson's homer.

Leo Cardenas' two-run second inning single and Gordie Coleman's homer in the sixth accounted for the Reds' other runs. Donn Clendenon's homer in the fourth got the Pirates started. Bob Halley scored the other run in the seventh when he singled and moved around on a balk, a walk and an error by O'Toole.

There were 43,000 on hand, including the President, whose first and only pitch was low and wide. In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds, the pennant pick in many circles, got off winging with a 5-2 victory over the revamped Pittsburgh Pirates.

The other American league teams open the long campaign today.

Maris Will Miss Today's Opener

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Roger Maris, who hit 61 home runs in 1961, will not play for the New York Yankees in today's opener against Kansas City. He told Manager Ralph Houk that his injured left leg still bothered him after Monday's workout. Houk said Hector Lopez will replace Maris in right field.

Rubick At Right Half As Spartans Practice

EAST LANSING (AP) — Duffy Daugherty wore a bright green slicker and a blue look for the opening of spring football practice at Michigan State.

"We have more rebuilding problems than any year since I've been here," said Daugherty Monday at the start of his 10th year as head coach of the Spartans. Daugherty has 17 lettermen returning from the crew that managed a 5-4 record last fall. He had 76 regulars suited up for the start of the five weeks of spring drills.

The weather fitted Daugherty's mood. It was raining and overcast. As soon as the picture-taking was over, Daugherty started his regulars through drills. They slipped and fell on the slick field and the green and white uniforms were coated with mud.

Daugherty said he plans to go with separate offensive and defensive units again this fall. They will have to play both ways, however, he said.

Biggest losses, weight-wise and otherwise, are in the line where such proven heavyweights as center Dave Behrman and tackles Ed Budde and Jim Bobbitt are missing through graduation. The line is expected to average 214 pounds this year—down about 20 pounds per man from last fall.

Daugherty already was plugging holes at the start of drill.

offensive unit at quarterback. Proebstle was injured early last season and didn't earn a letter.

Dick Gordon, also a non-letter winner, was filling in at left half in place of co-captain Sherman Lewis, out for track this spring.

Ron Rubick, a lightweight but dependable yard-gainer was running at right half. Dewey Lincoln, switched from wingback, was trying out his 180 pounds at fullback.

Daugherty said he plans to start building the offensive and defensive units around his seniors and juniors. There were 17 seniors, 27 juniors and 32 sophomores on hand for the first session.

The lightweight backfield promises to have speed. There are still some proven ends around, led by co-captain Dan Underwood and Matt Snorton. Some of the other ends will be shifted into line spots.

Tackle Dave Herman and guards Charlie Brown and Steve Mellinger are among the best of the veteran line-men.

Charlie Migyanka, the only letterman quarterback, is being switched to halfback. Others figuring in the quarterback scramble are Ken Bankey and Roger Hailcy, neither of whom earned a letter last year, plus sophomores Steve Juday and Dave McCormick.

The first all-out scrimmage of the five weeks of practice is scheduled for Saturday

Earl Glass Tops College Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Glass, a 6-foot senior from Mississippi Industrial, was the small college basketball scoring champion for the 1962-63 season with the second highest average in history, according to figures released today by the NCAA service bureau.

Glass averaged 42.9 points for 19 games, a pace bettered only by the 46.5 posted by Bevo Francis of Rio Grande in 1953-54. The only other 40-point scorer in college history was Frank Selvy of Furman, who hit at a 41.7 clip in 1953-54.

Glass was sixth a year ago with a 29.7 average. He is the seventh Southerner in eight years to win the small college crown.

Bob Johnson of Fitchburg, Mass., State was second with a 39.1 average, and Willie Shaw of Lane, Tenn., winner a year ago, was third with 35.4. Shaw won with a 32.9 average in 1961-62.

Top Pro Golfers At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Five of the top seven finishers in the Masters tournament will play in the $35,000 annual Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament which begins here Thursday.

Masters runnerup Tony Lema, Sam Snead and Julius Boros, who tied for third, and Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald, who tied for fifth, will be on hand to attempt to wrest the Greensboro title from defending champion Billy Casper.

The New York Yankees swept only three doubleheaders on their way to the 1962 American League pennant. They lost eight and split 10.

Musial Is Eager For 22nd Opener

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—What's left, Stan Musial? You've accomplished practically everything that can be accomplished in baseball. So what are you trying to prove?

The man who has become a legend in his lifetime actually appeared embarrassed by the questions. He looked around at his teammates, many of them not even born when he first donned a St. Louis Cardinal uniform, and strove to find the right words. "You probably won't believe it," said Stan, the 42-year-old man, "but I still get a big kick out of being in uniform. I still have that desire."

Then, as if fearing this explanation might sound a bit sophomoric, Musial added sort of defensively: "You've got to have desire to play, particularly when you get older."

Stanley looked fit and trim in his 22nd annual issue of the Cardinal uniform as he worked out at the Polo Grounds in preparation for today's opener against the New York Mets.

"Opening day is always exciting," he mused. "This is my 21st or 22nd opener and I never fail to get a thrill on opening day. It's something I look forward to each spring. And believe me, I look forward to this season opener with as much anticipation as I did in my first one more than 20 years ago."

Stan (The Man) said he weighed 180 pounds, the same weight with which he finished the 1962 season, and that he felt as well as he did last year when he played 135 games and batted .330.

With seven batting titles, three most valuable player awards, a lifetime 3,544 hits and a .330 batting average to his credit, what did this remarkable athlete still want in baseball?

"I want to play in another World Series," was the prompt reply.

Red Wing Spirit Is Vital Factor

TORONTO (AP)—A lot has been said about the value of big Gordie Howe to the Detroit Red Wings, and rightly so.

But don't overlook something else the Wings have going for them—that staff called spirit.

When the mighty Toronto Maple Leafs skate out against Detroit tonight in the opening game of the Stanley Cup finals, they'll be facing a hepped-up club studded with hungry hockey players.

The fact the Leafs are 13 to 5 favorites to win the opening game of the best-of-seven series and 14 to 5 to take the Stanley Cup for the second year in succession shouldn't phase the Wings.

This is the same Detroit club that wasn't a popular choice to make the playoffs this season. The team that finished fifth last year and was said to be in need of a rebuilding job.

Instead of living up to pre-season predictions, the Wings opened with a flourish and were early leaders in the National Hockey League race.

The experts covered up by saying it wouldn't last—the Detroiters were playing over their heads and would soon settle down to a lower, more fitting position in the standings.

Howe, indeed, was a big factor as the Wings held on and coasted to a fourth-place finish, only five points behind the champion Leafs. His play was an inspiration to his mates and the club developed the kind of spirit which makes any team tough to beat.

The Chicago Black Hawks had them down 2-0 in their best-of-seven semi-final but still the Wings didn't quit. They romped to four successive wins to take the series 4-2, a fact that hasn't hurt their spirit at all.

Gregory Peck And Anne Bancroft Get Top Oscars

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Gregory Peck, a four-time loser in the Oscar finals, and Anne Bancroft, an actress Hollywood once ignored, are winners of the movie's best actor and best actress awards for 1962.

Anne Bancroft

"Lawrence of Arabia" was named the year's best film Monday night at the 35th annual Academy Awards ceremony, and a grandfather, Ed Begley, and a teen-ager, Patty Duke, won best supporting actor and actress honors.

Miss Duke, who played the child Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," is the first juvenile ever to win an Academy Award. Shirley Temple, among others, have received honorary awards in the past.

In a glamor-packed setting at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, the taciturn Peck confessed that he came to the show "prepared to be a graceful loser."

"I'm just a little stunned about the whole thing. It really staggered me," Peck said.

Then he pulled out a gold pocket watch from his vest.

"Harper Lee mailed it to me just this morning. She said it belonged to her father and he wore it for 60 years and she wanted me to wear it to the Academy Awards. She also said she dropped it in the grave when she was 6 years old. I was clutching it when my name was called."

Miss Lee is the author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning "To Kill A Mockingbird," based on childhood reminiscences of her father, a small-town Southern lawyer. Peck played the father in the movie.

Miss Bancroft, who portrayed Annie Sullivan, the tenacious teacher of the blind and deaf Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," was busy Monday night on the New York stage — where she became a star after years in B movies. Joan Crawford accepted the Oscar for her.

Early in the night, as technical awards were announced, it looked like a sweep for "Lawrence of Arabia."

It almost was. The $12-million movie of the mysterious World War I hero won seven Oscars for sound, film editing, music score, color art direction, cinematography, best director (Britisher David Lean) and best movie. The best song award went to "Days of Wine and Roses" from the movie of the same name. The music was written by Henry Mancini and the lyrics by Johnny Mercer.

Houghton Donates Isle Royale Park Headquarters Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Interior Subcommittee Monday approved a bill by Rep. John B. Bennett, R-Mich., authorizing the park service to accept the donation of six acres in Houghton, Mich., as the headquarters site of the Isle Royale National Park.

Bennett told the subcommittee that park personnel employed at the island park cannot be quartered at the park during the winter because of severe weather.

He and park service officials said the plan is to construct quarters for seven families at the Houghton location at a cost of about $150,000. These quarters would be rented to park employees. Land would be donated by Copper Range Co., Bennett said.

New Trial Begins In Scout Killing

MUSKEGON (AP)—Testimony starts today at Muskegon County Circuit Court in the new trial of admitted drifter and outlaw Herman Barmore on a charge of second-degree murder.

The State Supreme Court last October granted Barmore's appeal for a new trial. It cited reversible error in his November 1957 conviction of second degree murder. He was sentenced to life in prison on that conviction and to a concurrent term on a morals charge.

The slaying victim was Peter Gorham, a 12-year-old Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout. He was found shot to death six weeks after vanishing July 5, 1955, from a hike while at a summer camp on nearby Duck Lake.

Outlining the people's case Monday, Prosecutor Harry J. Knudsen said, "We will show that Barmore killed this boy to cover up the commission of a sex crime on this little boy."

Barmore, 50 next July, is unique as the first respondent to direct his own defense in a Michigan capital criminal case.

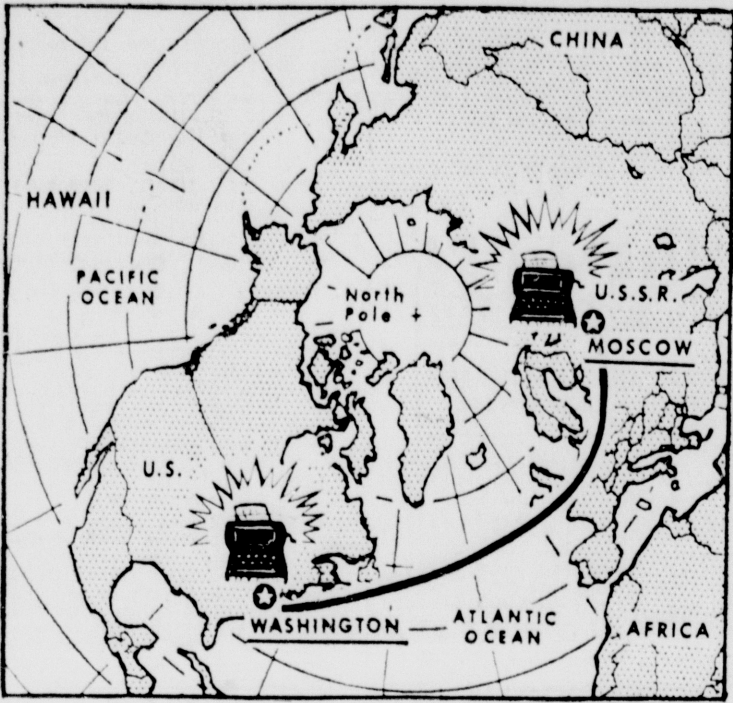

Visiting Judge John H. Vanderwail ruled, however, that court-appointed attorney John P. Boeschstein be present to protect the respondent's rights. The attorney was Barmore's original counsel and carried on the ultimately successful appeal.

NMC Dean Author Of Health Manual

MARQUETTE — Dr. Luther West, dean of arts and science at Northern Michigan University, is one of the authors of the enlarged, revised edition of "Practical Malariology," a 750-page volume in the field of world health. Oxford University Press has announced April 18, as publication date for the book, designed to serve modern public health workers and teachers.

Despite extensive efforts at control by the World Health Organization and other agencies, health authorities say malaria still constitutes humanity's No. 1 health problem.

Dr. West prepared the chapters on "Morphology, Taxonomy, and Life Cycle of Mosquitoes," "Mosquito Bionomics," "World Distribution of Anopheline Mosquitoes," "Field Techniques," and "Laboratory Techniques." Dr. West, a lecturer in world health, has served in former years as scientist-consultant to WHO.

Spring Fires Take Toll In Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Grass fires swept over nearly 1,600 acres in Michigan last week.

The annual spring plague of such fires can be expected to continue until vegetation greens up or the state gets an overall soaking rain.

The fires burned over 300 acres in Isosco County, 150 acres each in Missaukee and Gogebic Counties, 125 acres in Menominee County, 120 acres in Clare County. A dump fire in Dickinson County broke out of bounds to destroy several homes.

Snow has melted in most areas. The vegetation is dry and dead. The leaves from last fall and early grass provide ideal tinder.

The most tragic destruction to Michigan's natural resources comes when a grass fire gets into a wooded area to become a full-fledged forest fire.

Forests go and deer and other game are destroyed.

Milton Bergman, chief of the forest Fire Control Division of the Conservation Department, has issued his annual appeal for public cooperation to help prevent such fires.

About 80 per cent of Michigan's estimated 10,000-acre annual grass and forest fire damage comes in the spring, Bergman said. "Uncontrolled burning is responsible for most of the fires in the spring," he said.

Oscar Program Has Bright Spots

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—That annual spring rite of Hollywood, the awarding of the Motion Picture Academy's statuettes, may not be television's best show of the year, but it always has a certain fascination.

There's the mounting excitement about the top awards, of course. Even more, there are the stars to see and for the ladies of the home audience, there are the stars' dresses. It's a long two hours, but still it's sort of fun.

Monday night the ABC production started out rather dimly. The cameras were out of focus and the sound was fuzzy.

When they cleared up, Frank Sinatra was off to a rather out-of-focus start. As master of ceremonies, he gave a little lecture in show biz slang on making better pictures in Hollywood, using the "Mona Lisa" as an example. At one point, he referred to La Gioconda as "that chick," but the laughs never came.

But his material, too, cleared up a little as the ceremony went along.

The show sped along at a no-nonsense clip. The greatest improvement was grouping the songs rather than singing them interminably through the evening.

Watchdog Stolen

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)—Thieves who raided the Spartanburg Tire Co. last weekend took eight new tires, money from the cigarette machine—and the company's watchdog.

YOU'LL KNOW WHY FORD SWEEP THE FIRST FIVE PLACES AT DAYTONA...WHEN YOUR '63 FORD IS STILL GOING STRONG YEAR AFTER YEAR

Daytona's big, banked oval puts unbelievable stresses and strains on engines, steering gears and frames. The Fords that won at Daytona took all the punishment this famous track could dish out over 500 miles of grueling competition without missing a beat.

In this toughest of all stock car events, mechanical failures claimed over fifty per cent of the starting field. But of twelve Fords entered, nine went the distance. Ford took six of the first ten places.

Five-hundred-mile events like Daytona are a public demonstration of toughness, reliability and sheer engineering excellence that are part of the new generation of Fords. A test like this can't be duplicated on anybody's testing grounds—it's run right out in the open. Any car can enter. But only the car that has the best total combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension can win... that's what we mean by total performance.

Visit your Ford Dealer before you buy any other new car. Here's what you'll find: a new kind of total-car durability, a new kind of handling ability, a suspension that is startlingly smooth yet sticks to the road like tar. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember, it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance!
